Danielle Dietrich focuses her practice with Strassburger McKenna Gutnick & Gefsky in the areas of women and diverse-owned businesses, healthcare, elder law, and litigation throughout Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia.

Her work includes assisting women and diverse-owned businesses with obtaining and maintaining diversity certifications, such as Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) through the U.S. Department of Transportation, Minority Business Enterprise (MBE) and Women Business Enterprise (WBE).

Ms. Dietrich is well known for her work in healthcare law, representing medical providers including skilled nursing facilities, assisted living facilities, personal care homes, and private medical practices. She assists these clients with a variety of issues, including Medical Assistance-Long Term Care advice and appeals, guardianships, disputes with agents under power of attorney, collections, and Orphan's Court litigation. Ms. Dietrich also assists healthcare clients with drafting policies, Medicare and Medicaid audits and appeals, and HIPAA compliance issues.

Ms. Dietrich functions as "outside general counsel" for businesses not large enough to require their own full-time attorney, but still have a variety of legal needs. She assists with contract matters, intellectual property issues, collections, employment, and corporate governance and growth.

Ms. Dietrich has obtained favorable verdicts for her clients in federal and state bench and jury trials, arbitrations, as well as administrative and regulatory proceedings.

Ms. Dietrich resides in South Fayette with her husband and two daughters and is a college sports fan.
